

ROBBER HELD UP AN ENTIRE FAMILY

Arraigned at Tucson Charged
With Crime Committed
Years Ago.

Tucson, Ariz., August 12.—Charged with having entered the house of Francis de los Reyes at Tanque Verde more than a year ago and at the point of a gun terrorizing the family, taking all their valuables, Adolfo Mayo was arraigned yesterday before Justice Scott on a charge of burglary. His hearing was not concluded and was continued until today.

Mayo in justice court yesterday was positively identified by Mrs. de los Reyes as the robber who entered the house and frightened the entire family.

The robbery was one of the boldest ever known in this county. It was committed early in the evening. The robber approached the ranch house and the people, thinking it was either a friend coming for a visit or a stranger passing by, paid no attention to him. They were startled by a command to throw up their hands and they suddenly found themselves looking into a six-shooter barrel.

Ransacked House.
The robber proceeded to ransack the house, keeping the family covered. He relaxed his vigilance momentarily and Mrs. de los Reyes, seizing the opportunity, leaped through a window, carrying pane and sash with her.

Immediate pursuit was given by the robber but the woman, screaming at the top of her voice, ran toward another ranch house a quarter of a mile away and her cries brought help. The robber, frightened, gave up the pursuit and disappeared. It was said that he had gone into the mountains.

Suicion pointed toward Mayo and when he arrived here a few days ago he was immediately arrested by Deputy Sheriff Mills.

IT'S A CRIME TO ATTEMPT SUICIDE

New York, August 12.—For the first time in many years a young woman who went to trial on charge of having attempted suicide has been convicted in court here. An attempt at suicide is a felony, punishable by imprisonment in state's prison for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than $1,000 or both, but as a rule the unfortunate, after arrest and meditation, are given their freedom.

Rosina Golden is the young woman, and her conviction is the culmination of a long series of misfortunes. Some years ago she was hurt by a ceiling which fell on her. Then she lost all her savings in an unsuccessful business venture. Again, she was found overcome by gas, and it was believed that she had tried to kill herself. She fell from a street car, and a pin which was forced into her arm caused blood poisoning.

Three times she was a patient in Bellevue hospital, having attempted suicide, the last occasion being in Central park, where she drank laudanum.

The supposition is that he lost his balance. Only one truck passed over his body, but he died shortly afterward.

HOT WEATHER EATING IN THEORY

Foods for Summer That Add
No Heat to One's System.

"Theoretically the best program in summer—if you want to keep cool—is to eat foods that have little nutriment in them," a physician said this morning.

"You may reduce your menu from general principles of physiology—if you care to. Proteids, which is the scientific term for meats, build up waste tissue. Carbohydrates, the starchy foods, generate even more heat than meats. The third class of food is fats. You see the dilemma. The best thing to do, clearly is to eat as little of the starchy foods as possible—and little of the proteids and of the fats.

"Milk is the best hot weather food. One glass of good milk contains as much nutriment as a hungry man could get out of two eggs, three ounces of lean meat, sixteen ounces of oysters, one ounce of cocoa and two ounces of bread. This has been tested in many cases, especially in tubercular cases. It is possible to live on milk alone, for it contains all three of the classes of foodstuffs.

A Hot Weather Menu.
"A good hot weather menu which would furnish no more nutriment than the body requires in summer, would go something like this: "Breakfast—Prepared cereals, the kind that come in pasteboard boxes. A thin slice of bacon, which is salty and covers the taste but doesn't add any fuel to the furnace; a cup of coffee.

"Luncheon—Milk; a sandwich of fancy sandwiches preferred, because they are cut thinner. Finish with a piece of 'indigestible pie'.

"Dinner—Steak will be necessary to keep the sufferer from thinking he is starving, though a few glasses of milk will furnish more food. Biscuits and ice tea will not add anything to the work of the digestive organs and yet will seem to relieve hunger. There is not much tissue building material in fruits either.

"With such a menu as this you will never fear that you will starve, and yet there is so little nutriment in the foods mentioned that little heat will be generated in the body from eating them."

"But is this your own summer menu?" some one asked.
"Oh, no," the physician replied, "the heat doesn't bother me and I eat whatever I please. I thought you wanted some theory."

WRECK WAS COSTLY AFTER

Result of Carelessness Mounts
Into Six Figure Column.

San Bernardino, Cal., August 12.—Superintendent J. R. Hitchcock of the Santa Fe has returned to headquarters in this city from the Hesperia wreck, where he has been ever since its occurrence, and was yesterday continuing the work of investigating the cause of the disaster.

From what has been learned of the wreck it is without doubt a plain case of carelessness on the part of the train crew, in leaving the heavy train in the grade practically unprotected. While the rear brakeman testified that he set the brakes on several of the rear cars of the train, it is pointed out that if this was really done it should have held the train. It is probable that several of the men in charge of the train will lose their jobs, as it is said the conduct in which they left the train is a gross violation of the rules of the company.

Dangerous Practice.
"When anyone says there is no danger in leaving a train like that on a grade such as exists at Hesperia, he doesn't know what he is talking about. It is positively dangerous to leave even a light train unprotected, to say nothing of such a train as the one which was wrecked," said a well-posted railroad man yesterday, in discussing the matter.

The Santa Fe claim agents were yesterday still at work on the task of getting the claims, that will result into shape. The loss to the Santa Fe occasioned by the wreck will mount into six figures. Among the expensive freight smashed up was a carload of expensive mahogany furniture, a carload of automobiles and several pianos.
